Professor of Austrian, European and International Civil Procedure Law

Application deadline: 27.05.2026
Job Profile: § 98 UG
Hours per week: 40 h/w

Salary Category: A1
Employment Start: December 2026
Duration of Contract: Permanent employment

Job Description

The professorship is intended to cover the full scope of Austrian, European and international civil procedure law in both research and teaching, taking due consideration of the curricula. The focus lies on the legal theory of Austrian, European and international civil procedure law, as well as on future-oriented developments in civil procedure law. The post holder should be involved in national and international research and, accordingly, have a wide range of national and international contacts; they should also have a track record of publications and lectures in a foreign language (particularly English). The successful candidate is expected to secure competitive third-party funds and to contribute to the university's profile development, to the university's and faculty's core research areas, and to the faculty's doctoral programmes.

Employment Requirements

- Austrian or equivalent foreign higher education degree corresponding with the position (doctorate/PhD)
- Habilitation or equivalent qualification in civil procedure law

- Outstanding academic qualifications in research and teaching in the relevant discipline and for the profile of the professorship (commensurate with stage of academic career and interruptions in employment due to caring responsibilities)
- Success in attracting subject-specific project grants, particularly where competitively awarded third-party funds are concerned
- Skills in higher education didactics including the use of digital media
- Skills in the supervision and guidance of early career researchers
- Professional experience abroad during academic career
- Management and leadership experience
- Gender mainstreaming and diversity management skills
- Outstanding knowledge of German and English; knowledge of other foreign languages is preferable

The successful candidate will be highly motivated, aiming for academic excellence and integrity in research and teaching. He/she will have demonstrated ability to collaborate constructively in a responsible manner and inspire colleagues and students in an interdisciplinary, internationally oriented context.

We offer a diverse, challenging, team-oriented working environment and a high degree of personal responsibility. Working hours are flexible and there are many options for further education and personal development.

The minimum remuneration as stated in the Collective Bargaining Agreement is € 93,986.20 gross per year. Salary subject to negotiation.
